- 50 boxes have been decorated by the Grade 5's and are now lining the hallways ready to be filled
- We have connected with a local seniors home who are without decorations this year, the primary students are working on Christmas cards and decorations to be delivered to them. This has been a good lesson for the younger students on giving back

- Thank you to classroom enrichment and field trip funds; many teachers have begun booking events in the new year

- We will not be doing Christmas concerts this year, primary classes working with Mrs. Devido will be recording their songs and it will be sent home for parents to watch in December
- Intermediate students will be doing something during diversity and respect week
- Report cards – last big report card will be coming home next week. We will then be moving to student inclusive conferences. Next year will be all student inclusive conferences
- It's been exciting to have parents back in the school helping with hot lunches or volunteering in the classroom
